

Launch of Orion's latest ringtone portal

Orion Ringtones just announced the launch of its latest ringtone portal

Orion Ringtones just announced the launch of its latest ringtone portal located at <http://ringtones.orion-cs.com>. This latest venture by the Orion family of websites marks an attempt by the company to keep up with the trends of their younger audience by providing them with free MP3 and polyphonic ringtone downloads.

Updated daily, the Orion database of ringtones provides site visitors with the latest new free mp3 and polyphonic ringtones as soon as they become available. In addition to the selection of ringtones offered, the group also provides visitors with wallpapers, games, and videos for download.

Currently, the website provides its users with more than 10,000 of the most popular ringtones ranging in style from Elvis to Snoop, Antonio Vivaldi to Beyonce. And, unlike other ringtone sites, Orion also provides visitors with a wealth of information, advice, tutorials and articles related to everything 'ringtone'.

"Polyphonic ringtones are more than a simple fad, as they are used by both teens and seniors to make their phones 'stand out' in a crowd. They provide distinction, conjure up sweet memories, and allow users to make a statement about the caller. The Orion group caters to those looking for a free polyphonic ringtone service that will be online for the long term." says Grigoriy Adams, the founder of Orion Ringtones.

And the portal is off to a great start with a great selection of both mp3 and polyphonic ringtones already available and new tracks added daily, success is sure to follow.
