

Announcing Abunza, the First Bilingual Business of Its Kind on the Internet!

The Abunza business model outshines the existing model in many key ways that virtually guarantees success for its members.

Abunza features an English and Spanish website and products, and employs a team of bilingual sales pros on their "Dream Team" to close sales on behalf of its members. Ad co-ops targeting both the English and Spanish speaking markets are also available. Abunza is a true ground floor opportunity and combines the high ROI potential of a start-up company with the security of a proven and tested model, concept and software that has been very solid and very successful already.

Furthermore, the Abunza business model outshines the existing model in many key ways that virtually guarantees success for its members.

According to founder Michael Spire, "the hardest part of any business to be successful is to have fun, positive people on the team. The Abunza "Dream Team"™ are just that, and they are on the phone working for each of our members."

Here is what makes Abunza extraordinary:

- Advertising co-ops including Spanish Radio, Spanish TV to target market the 100 million Spanish speaking people on the Internet today.
- The Abunza Dream Team will call back prospects in both Spanish and English so that members don't have to. Members are notified when funds are transferred into their accounts. A commission is then paid to the Dream Team member.
- Generous two-tier compensation plan pays out 100% commission. $797 on the first level and $200 on the second level.
- The business plan was approved by Gerry Nehra, the top specialized attorney that approved the business model for Liberty League, Emerald Passport and ITV Ventures.
- Two digital libraries containing hundreds of products in both Spanish and English, including software, e-books, audio books and video. The majority of these are high quality digital information products and Software on Internet Marketing and Sales.
- Shopping cart software for all members to earn an additional income from retail customers and members earn 100% of the sales.
- The opportunity for all members to add digital products to their sites to sell to their customersâ€¦AND pocket 100% of the sales.

- Constantly evolving digital libraries with products added regularly, including products from well known Internet marketing gurus.

Abunza is a US company with just 50 members and growing fast. Learn more at:
<http://www.AbunzaGuy.com>

<http://www.abunzaguy.com/info.html>