

Buster Betfair Grehound Betting System Bot is Launched

".....Stunningly Simple, Betfair Profit Machine from a No Bull St guy"

London 12th February 2008

Paul Jenkins creator of UGS is proud to announce the official launch of Buster the Betfair Greyhound Gambling Bot System that has been the talk of the online gambling scene.

Buster is 6 months worth of work devised by Jenkins for his own personal use and 2 others. Back in December Jenkins originally said he would not release the bot but has now come to his senses and decided that he will release a maximum of 100 copies of which most are pre ordered by his previous UGS laybot customers

Prior to the launch Buster has been extensively tested by Jenkins and his team along with several beta testers one such test David Shepherd said.." I have been very proud to be associated with Buster, I have tried many Betfair systems, spent a lot of money yet buster has beaten every single one"

When asked about his initial reluctance to release Buster Jenkins said "..I was quite happy using Buster for my own personal needs, what happens is that information leaks out through a few passages, emails start arriving, you cant ignore them or lie, I donâ€™t want to appear like somebody who does not care about his previous customers so I said ok I will sell 100 copies but absolute priority must go to UGS members"

Buster uses Jenkins's highly developed maths algorithm to pick the correct dogs and install them into a simply but powerful staking plan. The message is simple; Buster works until it makes a profit then shuts down. Jenkins said "..I wanted something that I could leave and simply make a regular profit, whether that profit be 10-15-20-25 or 30 pounds my key was to stop losing and start winning, its amazing what happens when you simply stop losing!)

Jenkins's system is stunningly simple, a Betfair profit machine, and there's no bull st either, unlike the majority of people selling so called Betfair systems Jenkins uses his software everyday, along with the other 99 members of his Buster club

Lucky buyers can get a copy from the UGS site, which is www.ultimategamblingsystem.co.uk/buster.php
