

Webflo Studios Signs on to Design Website for 3D Effects Studio

Local web design company Webflo Studios announced that its most recent venture is to design a new website for Radical 3D, which creates digital effects and 3D animation.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (March 10, 2008) â€“ Local web design company Webflo Studios announced that its most recent venture is to design a new website for Radical 3D, which creates digital effects and 3D animation.

The Southern California-based visual effects studio wanted a clean, minimalist design that would allow the companyâ€™s specialties in character animation, movie titles, and Photorealism to be the main focus of the site.

One distinguishing feature of the website is that it will allow Radical 3D to easily update company information, such as news, press releases, and an extensive photo gallery showcasing the companyâ€™s achievements. Such ease of use is important, especially regarding photos, as it allows members of Radical 3D to quickly upload pictures that highlight the companyâ€™s impressive work. As pictures are uploaded into the site directory, they are automatically rearranged on the website, with the newest photos at the top.

Such a feature makes this website user-friendly, saving time and effort for the busy company.
