[large][b]San Diego â€“ March 26th, 2007 â€” Visual Ventures, llc announced today the Public Beta launch of VeroticMen.com.[/b]

Verotic Men is being launched internationally to meet the need for an adult place to play and interact with other likeminded Gay and Bisexual Men. It might be thought of as an adult only, â€œMySpaceâ€• type community that caters to the Gay male community. It is open to any adults or even businesses and membership is free. It includes member pictures, videos, member advertising areas, instant messaging, mail messaging, groups, forums, group chat and video chat via webcam.

Verotic Men makes it easy to find, interact, and even meet other Gay or Bisexual males.

Verotic Men can be accessed online by visiting <http://www.VeroticMen.com>.

[large][b]VeroticMen.com Beta Limitations[/b]

Visual Ventures, llc pays attention to Beta users' feedback and will work to quickly make improvements to the site. Also, as we scale from limited beta to full International launch, users may experience site outages, server busy errors, and slow search times, among other issues. The Visual Ventures team will work hard to enhance the speed and reliability of the experience, and we appreciate your patience.

[large][b>About Visual Ventures, llc[/b]

Visual Ventures, llc was created from a concept developed by the founders in early 2006. The founding concept was that any, and all, types of online interaction can be enhanced by including Visual components, i.e. photos and video. The main focus of the company has been on interactive communities.

Visual Ventures, llc is a unique company with a simple mission. To offer a diverse set of internet business ventures that make use of the latest Visual concepts and technologies to enable the best user experience possible. Thus providing turnkey systems and web sites that enable individuals, entertainers, and businesses to take advantage of these latest Visual technologies to effectively and interactively market to a global community via the internet.

Visual Ventures, llc has successfully launched and currently operates online adult communities and is continuing expansion into other markets, such as employment, that can benefit from their proven technology and community infrastructure.
