

Copy AOL email to Outlook with Connected Software Inc: ePreserver 9.0. Only Five Clicks

ePreserver can copy your AOL e-mail, address book and favorite places without losing anything by Five Clicks.

Connected Software Inc released the new version ePreserver 9.0 on April 19th 2008, which only five clicks to copy your AOL email Address book and favorite places to Outlook.

The newest version improves performance at the following aspects:

Fixed: Enabled encryption on IMAP connections under Windows Vista.

Fixed: Some messages headers were not converted in one customer's PFC file.

Fixed: Message dates in older PFC files are now converted more reliably.

New: Added support for converting messages and address books to Gmail.

Fixed: (PLUS) Duplicate detection of messages is not working properly when converting to Outlook.

Fixed: Auto-Added contacts are not being converted.

New: Added support for converting messages to HTML format.
