

Tania Guerrero Joins the Exhibit Las Mujeres: Sueños y Realidad (The Women: Dreams and Reality)

Puerto Rico born New York artist Tania Guerrero was chosen to participate in the Galeria Tonantzin, show Las Mujeres: Sueños y Realidad (The Women: Dreams and Reality) along with other Latina Women ar

Artist and author Tania Guerrero is exhibiting her work at the Galeria Tonantzin, in San Juan Bautista, California. The show will present work by Latino women artists. Tania Guerrero is known for her vividly powerful, ethnic, political and spiritual paintings and multi-media work. Her original work is sold nationally at various juried events, art festivals, and through her online site TaniaGuerrera.com. Reproductions of her work are available from ArtistRising.com. She is also the author of Thoughts and Transformations and frequently performs at spoken words events in New York. This is Ms. Guerrero's first California exhibit.

Ms. Guerrero's paintings "Samahdi", "Oshon Boricua" and "Masked Woman" were selected by a jury and all were accepted into the annual Las Mujeres (The Women) group show. This year the show is entitled Sueños y Realidad (Dreams and Reality). The show's curator is artist Maria Sanchez founder of ABLA, Art by Latina Artists. The directors of Galeria Tonantzin are artists Jennifer Colby, PhD. and Janet Martinez.

Ms. Guerrero said "I am honored to be included in this show. The art in [i]Las Mujeres: Sueños y Realidad[/i] is strong, beautiful and ahead of its time. Latina artists are a big part of the art world and this is a public opportunity for our importance be showcased. Personally for me it is a chance to exhibit among my peers"

Artist Jeff Spindel says that, "[i]"Tania is a talented and passionate multi-media artist and beautiful Goddess! Her passion for love and creativity in our world is a force that breaks down barriers and opens up channels for love to expand itself into our lives."
