

Get Your Ex Girlfriend Back... YA' SURE?

Getting Your Ex Girlfriend Back Is A Piece Of Cake... Just Be Damn Sure It's What You Really Want!

So, you're hell bent on trying to get your ex girlfriend back. Are you sure? Really sure? Because I have heard some pretty crazy stories of guys finally, after knocking themselves stupid, spending a fortune, going to all lengths and then...

One guy, after moving his girl into his apartment, woke-up in the middle of the night, with his newly returned girlfriend, straddling him while she repeatedly spit in his face yelling obscenities!

Guy two, while walking down Madison Ave, on his way home from work, got to the front of his doorman building and while chatting with some neighbors, got hit with something falling from the sky. It was his clothing. They were his Thousand dollar suits. His newly repaired relationship was upstairs throwing his whole wardrobe out the window!

Okay, one more, guy three. Now, after hearing about this guy, I know you will be thinking... "Should you really be trying to get your ex girlfriend back?" This guy., this guy, got stabbed 17 times by his "lovely, newly returned honey" because his dog wouldn't stop barking!!! 17 times she stabbed him and I think they were only back together less than a week!

So, as you can see, you should really be sure before you attempt to get your ex girlfriend back. You know what Im saying? So, if you are still here and I haven't scared you away., and you still want to get your girl back, it can sort of be like., a little Jedhi Mind Trick. She needs to believe that she has lost you, forever. No contact! You see, I used an exclamation point after, no contact. That is for a reason. If you are following her around, like some wounded puppy - she knows she can have you back whenever she snaps her fingers. And chances are, that makes her sick!

To get your ex girlfriend back, requires a little savy. A little thought. If getting your ex back is that important., give it some damn thought! Once you've created enough distance (No Contact) and she knows you're not some punk to be played with., than you have just created the opportunity for your in... And now, you have your chance.
