

CompuChild Announces Relocation of Its Headquarters

CompuChild Services of America, Inc., the leader in technology education for young children, announces their corporate headquarters has relocated to Carmel, Indiana.

CompuChild Services of America, Inc. announces their corporate headquarters has relocated to Carmel, Indiana. CompuChild is the recognized leader in technology education for young children.

“We are excited to bring CompuChild’s corporate office to Carmel,” said Julie Standish, President and CEO. “We take pride in preparing children for the academic requirements of our technology-based society. We believe there is no greater satisfaction than helping a child learn. Carmel’s outstanding school system and progressive technology programs for its students demonstrates our shared vision and commitment to quality education for our children.”

Since 1994, CompuChild has helped thousands of young children prepare for the academic challenges of tomorrow through their computer education program. Through a network of over 60 franchisees in 28 states and Puerto Rico, they instruct young children in day care centers, preschools and community centers.
