

Kyani International Expansion Announcements

Kyani International Market Update

To add to the excitement of the other promotions and improvements in the Kyani Worldwide market, we are pleased to announce the integration of China (PRC), Hong Kong

Michael Breshears, Kyani CEO, and Steven Hatch, Vice President of International, have just returned from a trip to Hong Kong where we met with the leaders of each of these countries and announced the exciting news of creating seamless international markets and moving them to the powerful Kyani compensation plan. The excitement there is strong and meetings are already underway in preparation for the full conversion.

For current distributors in these markets, the official date of conversion will be 01 April 2009; however, those who want to get into the new system before the official date have an opportunity to enter starting as soon as March 01. Watch your back office for official announcements and more details.

So what does this mean? If you were part of the binary system, it means you will now be able to sponsor into the Kyani system nearly everywhere Kyani has a market (Japan is currently the only market not fully integrated—but watch for announcements soon). This will allow you to grow your business in any Kyani market that you have contacts in. It also means you will now have access to the full line of Kyani products, and the powerful compensation plan with the high paying open line bonus. A comparison between the two systems shows that on average, distributors on the Kyani plan were paid 28% more in commissions than those on the binary system. If you are currently a distributor with Kyani outside of these markets, it means you can sponsor in China (PRC), Hong Kong, Taiwan, and Australia. Your downline volume in those countries will flow seamlessly to you in your commissions and rank advancements.
