

2012: Is it the End of the World or Beginning Bible Prophecies of Great Tribulation? Mayan Doom?

The year 2012 is on many peoples minds including the news media and more coverage will happen as we get closer to it. Are the Mayans right, Nostradamus or maybe the Book of Revelation? New blog on 2012

New blog online about the year 2012 with great links to more information about this supposed pivotal year according to many prophecies from a whole host of sources, whether it be from Nostradamus, Edgar Cayce, Barbara Marx Hubbard and the New Age writings of David Spangler and others, the Mayans according to their calendar, the Hopi Indians, the planet X writings and the Book of Revelation of the Bible.

Who is right since many contradict each other even though many have similar plots contained within their writings, both ancient and modern.

The blogger on this new blog has been studying these prophecies for nearly 40 years and has come to a conclusion that only one can be trusted, but that it does include much of what is said in the other writings.

Is there anything to worry about, or should we just continue as business as usual?

Does the previous and ongoing economic collapse in the United States and around the world, along with the unusual climatic changes going on, and the war chain rattling in the Middle East and North Korea have anything to do with any of these prophecies and their soon fulfillment?

Go to this new blog and decide for yourself and leave your pify comments.

Facinating study and information you need to know in order to decipher what is going on in the world today and to make the necessary precautions and preparations should things begin to heat up more, leaning you to believe that some of these prophecies are indeed plausible and their possibility of happening increasing.
